

Fugitive

Halford

A desert moon is risin'
Down that road's a distant place
A home where I have run from
A town where I can't show my face I put myself before you
I should have known where that would lead
No one had to possess me
And make me into what you need Ride on fugitive
Running low
Lone life as a renegade
Ridin' on I won't become that empty
I'm too elusive for to find
So you can't wait forever
I'll never be the one to hide I find myself in solace
I am the friend you never had
You vowed to be a stranger
As I keep walking on my back Ride on fugitive
Running low
Lone life as a renegade
Riding on And though my best is left intact
It's so much harder coming back Ride on fugitive
Running low
Long life as a renegade
Riding on
And on Ride on fugitive
Running low
Riding on
