Dark Clouds (Alternative Version)

Space

I think we need a holiday a week or two in Mexico
The two of us we'll leave the fools at home
Away from all the heartache and the troubles that we've suffered
In the last two weeks although they felt like yearsWe'll be free, no one to bother you or me
Down in Old Mexico let your inhibitions goDark clouds drift away to reveal
The sunshine
Dark clouds drift away to reveal
The sunshine, ohTwo lovers in a cage trapped and ever so afraid
To step outside from the world we hide
Street life and the bright lights blind their eyes
And send us running to obscurity we need to break freeTrapped you see, trapped here in mediocrity
Don't ever trust a soul on planet earthDark clouds drift away to reveal
The sunshine
Dark clouds drift away to reveal
The sunshine, ohDark clouds drift away
Dark clouds drift away
Dark clouds drift away
To reveal the sunshineDark clouds drift away
Dark clouds drift away
Dark clouds drift away
To reveal the sunshine

Songwriters
Edwards, James Desmond / Griffiths, Francis / Parle, Andrew / Scott, ThomasPublished by Lyrics Â© Sony/ATV Music Publishing LLC, Universal Music Publishing Group, Ultra Tunes

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/