Sugardaddy

Sophia Pfister

I'm your lipstick lush, latex apex,
I'm your helium heart, little dominatrix,
Im your sizzling sweet, sugar cane sadist,
I'm your "damn I've had enough, but keep my wallet open",

Sugar daddy,
I want something,
Will you buy me, fancy cut diamond rings?
Sugar daddy,
It's not that I'm a spoilt girl,
Well, it's just when I want something,
I want it plus the whole wide world,
Plus the whole wide world

Let me lie in a bathtub of flowers and milk,
We'll puff on cigars and ignore this mediocre world,
And let me ride out my tears in a black Cadillac,
Honey, who said money can't buy happiness?
I mean, don't you want to please me, don't you want to keep me nice.
Because you know I can always play love, if you like,

Sugar daddy,
I want something,
Will you buy me, fancy cut diamond rings.
Sugar daddy,
It's not that I'm a spoilt girl,
Well, it's just when I want something,
I want it plus the whole wide world,
Well, plus the whole wide world.
,
And I just need space to breathe,
Elbow room across the seven seas,
I just need to be free, free, free,
And everything's got a cost,
You pay the way by stolen loss,
I already know nothing's ever free, free, free

Sugar daddy,
I want something,
Will you buy me, fancy cut diamond rings,

Sugar daddy,
It's not that I'm a spoilt girl,
Well, it's just when I want something,
I want it plus the whole wide world,
I want it plus the whole wide world,
I want it plus the whole wide world,
I want it plus the whole wide world
I want it plus the whole wide world
I want it plus the whole wide world
I want it plus the whole wide world

Lyrics Submitted by Cat

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/