

Yakuza Dawn

Global Citizen

4am, they arrive for the slaying they're armed to the teeth and they're not playing they'll take your mother, your father your sister, your brother your friend, your lover your own child or another to keep you from straying you'd better keep praying that others keep paying, the price of failure that you stay in their favour that you're on your best behaviour seek protection from your saviour they'll take a finger or two to remind you not to step out of line, not to waste their time not to do things wrong or they'll step out from the shadows, in the morning light to give you a fright, to show their might that they're in control, that they own your soul so keep the drugs flowing keep the strippers showing keep the currency growing do all of these knowing that you're dispensable one mistake could prove fatal be sensible and you shall not fall during the dawn of the yakuzayakuza dawn, yakuza dawn yakuza dawn, yakuza dawn
