

Songlines

Causeries

Put your leisure on hold and learn a lesson to go with the mustache you grew as you were told to be tougher than you were before give the key another go if it opens the door to something better than this slippery slope of a road - that got to your heart and your soul Take a stand against the vermin for it knows you by name paint the passionate outcome as it withers away with the memories of a teenage love and how you were just an arm's length from something better than this slippery slope of a road - that got to your heart and your soul But you will break the pattern now yeah you will break right through and find yourself out of the low I know
I know

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>