Directions

Micah Tyler

I used to get caught up just chasing distractions. I used to fix my eyes on my own satisfaction. But then You called my name and erased my past, You told me to follow and never turn back. And then you changed my path with devine navigation.And I know my heart is prone to wonder this is my confession. Keep my close, I won't let go, because I would be so lost without your directions. I need your directions.Sometimes I forget you are my true definition and then I make wrong turns to other locations.But then You called my name and redirect my feet to follow you step by step. So I will run to you in the joy of salvation.And I know my heart is prone to wonder this is my confession. Keep my close, I won't let go, because I would be so lost without your directions. I need your directions.If you say move, I will move
If you say wait, I will wait
and all the rest of my days I will follow you
If you say move, I will move
If you say wait, I will wait
and all the rest of my days I will follow you
If you say move, I will move
If you say wait, I will wait and all the rest of my days I will follow youAnd I know my heart is prone to wonder this is my confession. Keep my close, I won't let go, because I would be so lost without your directions. I need your directions.
If you say move, I will move
If you say wait, I will wait
and all the rest of my days I will follow you
If you say move, I will move
If you say wait, I will wait
and all the rest of my days I will follow you
If you say move, I will move
If you say wait, I will wait
