They Know Who You Are

Powerman 5000

Gone for a moment that you'll never know
All of these things that you can't controlThey know who you are
They know who you are
They know who you are
They know who you areGone for a moment that you'll never know
All of these things that you can't control
The lights from above they move in real slow
Giving you things that you'll never knowThey know who you are
They know who you are
They know who you are
They know who you areOne for the machines that fill up the sky
And one for the demon that lights up your eyeThey know who you are
They know who you areGone for a moment that you'll never know
All of these things that you can't control
The lights from above they move in real slow
Giving you things that you'll never knowThey know who you are
They know who you are
They know who you are
They know who you areOne for the machines that fill up the sky
And one for the demon that lights up your eyeThey know who you are
They know who you are
They know who you are
They know who you are
They know who you are
They know who you areRight, right, right, right
Go, go, go, go
Go, go, go, go
