

Blow Wind Blow

Alannah Myles

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

Blow wind blow all my worries
Away from me
Blow wind blow a little heaven my way
Blow wind blow a little heaven my way Day goes down
Upon this dirty little town
You gotta find another lonely soul
To share the night So may you never end
All my sweet and ragged friends
Won't you raise your glass, your voice
And your will to fight 'Cause your life belongs to you Love's unkind
It'll make your heart unwind
You gotta send message
To yourself to carry on Burnt out and broke
Another romance in smoke
You better love a little bit of Something that'll make you strong Here's a song to see you through
Yes a song will see you through Blow wind blow all my worries
Away from me
Blow wind blow little heaven my way
Blow wind blow all my worries
Away from me
Blow wind blow little heaven my way Life comes true
In spite of everything we do
You gotta, learn to love
When the joke is played on you The great unknown
Will make you shiver to the bone
You wanna close your eyes
And pretend you're not alone Here's a song to sing you home
Yes a song will sing you home Blow wind blow all my worries
Away from me
Blow wind blow a little heaven my way
Blow wind blow all my worries

Away from me
Blow wind blow a little heaven my way Blow wind blow all my worries
Away from me
Blow wind blow a little heaven my way
Blow wind blow all my worries
Away from me
Blow wind blow a little heaven my way Blow wind blow all my worries
Away from me
Blow wind blow a little heaven my way
Blow wind blow all my worries
Away from me
Blow wind blow a little heaven my way Blow wind blow all my worries
Away from me
