

I.H.O.J.

Destroyer

I don't wanna be the one who tells you
What has gone wrong with your life
Just want you to find out for yourself
And when you see what is missing,
Just know that I'll be sitting
Waiting till the end of time

So if you can dance like you've never been hurt
And sing like you've never been heard,
You're the one I want you to break my heart
You're the one, I want you to break my heart

Sometimes I wonder why life is just like this,
Seem to be skipping from problem to crisis
Feels like I'm trapped, surrounded, broken
Don't understand the words that you've spoken
It's all Greek to me, you're talking in tongues
One day you'll realize songs we could have sung

So if you can dance like you've never been hurt
And sing like you've never been heard,
You're the one I want you to break my heart
You're the one, I want you to break my heart

3,2,1...

Now you've walked punk, outta my way
Cant stand any more waiting, There's nothing to say Things don't get better, better reach for the knife
Only thing I couldn't auction or pawn was my life
Interloper, heart-choker teenage bitch,
In love with love you told me this
Another fine liar, Burning books on the fire of my soul
Can't feel real love true, till its a taboo
Hidden yourself in the immigrant zoo.
Bang bang pulled the trigger, nurse the screens, I'm out

Now the wagon of love has turned to rust, laid down by the road to die
And what was pure, has given into lust but one day with angels we'll fly

So if you can dance like you've never been hurt

And sing like you've never been heard,
You're the one I want you to break my heart
You're the one, I want you to break my heart

(You're the one I want you to break my heart,
you're the one I want you to break my heart,
you're the one I want you to break my heart...)

What makes your right greater than mine?
Why should I have to escape from this life,
To escape those that do me such harm?
Then will you claim that I've chosen to run from your arms?
I cried over you, why should I have to flee?
Why is my life the only thing you
Won't take from me?
