

Spark

Thirteen Senses

Another spark has set you off and I don't know the way
The person of the satellite that tracks us night and day
Ah, but it takes us longer
Ah, but it makes us stronger
Another spark has set you off against recovery
The burning of a heavy heart surrenders like a dream
Ah, but it takes us longer
Ah, but it makes us stronger, ooh, ooh
And all our consciousness drifts away
And all our consciousness drifts away
And all our consciousness drifts away
Ooh, I was let out, I can't walk away
There were eyes all over me
I stopped breathing only just halfway
There were eyes all over me
