

The Politics Of Living And The Shame In Dying

Moneen

I wish I was here.

All this white light's gone black and no one's here to see.I wish I could scream "stop this awkward confusion"

And let me be.My system to keep wishing. my system could work.Black ink has the cure.

Feel good knowing your solution if forgotten in a year.

I'll wait just to never really have to decide.

Cause it's our goddamn right to live

Yet it's still not our choice to die.My system could work.

But it's all I can do to breathe is wait.My system to keep wishing. my system could work.

Why do I? why do I try? my system could work.
