

Just Weight

Battleme

Time is weighing down my mind it makes you hard to see sometimes in my brain
Time is holding you to me this chrome is hard to eat more wine and I'm fine I'm wasting my time
on selfish bad designs
I'm lazier with time Songs and heavy handed glows bad fingers move me slow
sometimes in my brain
But time is how I stay awake I think too big to late those nights are not profound I'm wasting my time
on dreams that hunt the blind and that golden bark of mine Time's just moving on and on I quit before I'm done
I think it satisfies
But I just complicate the ride when I think too late to hide weight on the brain I'm basing my finds on dudes that stay alive you know drugs ain't hard to find
