

Costume Party

The Pop Ups

went to the closet to put on some costume clothes and there it was just hanging right above my head my sister grabbed the tie that grandpa used to wear and I only had eyes on that lavender dress (really had my eye)(It's a costume party!) maybe it's the way some things button in the back some are really scratchy some are silken thread it's ok to try things on to see how it feels because clothes I suppose are just the way that you're dressedcostume party, try on something new costume party, see how all of these things look on youpick out a coat and pretend you're a detective or find a puffy hat and be a chef instead wear both at once and let's pretend we're in a show because clothes I suppose are just the way that you're dressedmaybe it's the way some things button in the back
some are really scratchy some are silken thread it's ok to try things on to see how it feels (they feel) because clothes I suppose are just the way that you're dressedlets close our eyes pull something down, and be surprised everything's fair play oh yeah... no matter what you see I know that me is me....everyone gets to play change what you wear today we wear what we likefind something silly and wear it somewhere strange t shirt on your bottom, or pants on your head a hero isn't just the costume that he wears and clothes I suppose are just the way that you're dressedmaybe it's the way some things button in the back
some are really scratchy some are silken thread
it's ok to try things on to see how it feels (they feel)
because clothes I suppose are just the way that you're dressed Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>