Where Did You Go

Matthew

A heavy heart with heavy eyes, I can feel you by my side
Now the one thing I desire has run away to no surprise
We could have reached a thousand skies and I'm still reaching for youRemember when it all began, I touched your face, you touched me
And we believed in innocence, something you could bring to me
Now that something in the past is coming back again, you'll seeWhere did you go, what did it mean?
I try to remember you, it's hard to believe
The beauty is fading, silence has ceased
Where did you go? Bring it back to me, back to meI saw the symptoms on your face, how I know you felt inside
Is it a dream for me to think, I could please you for a while
It won't let me get away and I don't want to leave if this is trueWhere did you go and what did it mean?
I try to remember you, it's hard to believe
The beauty is fading, silence has ceased
Bring it back to meI didn't mean to understand the feelings that you posed
I didn't mean to be a friend when you were all alone
I only wanted to be free and maybe to believe you could love meWhere did you go, what did it mean?
I try to remember you, it's hard to believe
The beauty is fading, silence has ceased
Where did you go? Bring it back to meWhere did you go, what did it mean?
I try to remember you, it's hard to believe
The beauty is fading, silence has ceased
Where did you go? Bring it back to me
