

I Can Change

Haley Bonar

Lit from underneath I get so high
The swords fall from the sky
And you hope they won't be shy
The eyes of every stranger on the street
Are hiding from the same kind of heat
If you don't cut it out and set it free
You're doomed to repeat
Thinking 'I can change I can change I can change' What if I were kind enough to love her
Instead of building walls around her?
I could be so happy if I let myself be happy
But I'm too busy behaving for a crowd
Thinking 'I can change I can change I can change...'
