50 Foot Wave

C'mon, c'mon, play the goddamn music
I know we fell apart a while ago
And no, not everyone's all right
Walking bare assed down hallway, yeah
Is hard enough at nightAnd you, don't you wanna do nothing?
Hey, hey, didn't you say some thing's missing?You have a stone cold picture of a girlfriend
And a celibate wife
You are in no shape to argue, oh
But you're ready for a fightC'mon, c'mon, wake me up, I'm sleeping, hey
And you, don't you wanna do nothing?
Hey, hey didn't you say some thing's missing?What you want's not what you need
It haunts you night and day
I'll see you on the light side
Of the darkness we are so scared offI'll do the Math for you
I keep it back for you
But what you chase at night
Will haunt you in the day, you want it toC'mon, c'mon, play the wounded hero
I'm hoping I'll grow sleepy and dim
One more somnambulistic year
Riding tethered to a hero and rescuing himAnd you, don't you wanna do nothing?
Hey, didn't you say some thing's missing?
