Something New

Sound the Alarm

If you're feeling like you need some motivation
A new way to get along
We've found a blend
To keep you safe in songWe've got it oh so concentrated
Got it moving through our bones
This connection's underrated
Never gets oldYou desire
Then I'll inspire a few
To try a taste of something newAnd it's making me sick
I can feel it on my left side
Creeping closer every inchTo say I'm sore would be an outrage
I'm sitting safely in my skin
I feel this free ride's headed somewhere
At least I'm hopingYou desire
Then I'll inspire a few
To try a taste of somethingAnd I've grown tired
Waiting for your move
Give up, don't pretend
There's something left to loseSomething left to pull us through
And just float away for good
Live this life the way we should
Just goYou desire
Then I'll inspire a few
To try a tasteI've grown tired of waiting for your move
Give up, don't pretend
There's something left to loseGive up, don't pretend
There's something left to lose
Give up, don't pretend
