

Every Fool Has a Rainbow

Merle Haggard

Every fool has rainbow
But he never seems to find
The reward that should be waiting
At the end of the lineBut he'll give up a bed of roses
For a hammock filled with thorns
And go chasing after rainbows
Every time the dream is bornAnd every fool has a rainbow
That only he can see
Every fool has a rainbow
And the rule applies to meEvery fool has a rainbow
That only he can see
Every fool has a rainbow
And the rule applies to me
