

True Confessions

Blondfire

I'm waiting for a chance to rewind
Looking for a light that still shines
Searching for a love that I can't find
Your lips tastin' like smoke and brandy
Keep givin' me the poison candy
I used to need a kiss to feel alive
We smile but soon it fades
Our hearts can't hold the weight
We walk but it's too late before it goes away
I just wanna hear your true confessions
I just wanna feel the love inside of you
I wanna know your superstitions
Tell me when did all the lies become the truth
We laugh, and we cry, and we tried so many times
I just wanna hear your true confessions
I just wanna feel the love inside of you
ooo
ooo
Time takin' us through the twilight
Leadin' into the darkside
Down below where all the shadows hide
We smile
