New Beginnings

Judas Priest

Now at last my dream is real
I found peace, true love can heal
On the journey throughout time
A new beginning has arrived
At the crossroads of my life
This new love keeps me aliveI never knew that this could happen to me
So many lonely days and nights
I never knew that you were waiting for me
Hope was out of sight
And suddenly I see the future clearly
No longer living in the past as I let goLiving the dream of my life
I was alone, no one in sight
This love, make me believe that you're the one
Never give up, our day has comeI never felt that this could happen to me
So many lonely days and nights
I never knew that you were waiting for me
Hope was out of sight
And suddenly I see the future clearly
Finally I know at last, I can't let go
