Two Guitars Clash

Stiff Little Fingers

Though up till then I'd thought that what I had was fine
I realized then as the earth moved that first time
That I had had more here inside
Just waiting for the vital sparkAnd then it crashed in on my senses with a bang
And overtook me with a pleasure oh so strong
That had been hidden for so long
Like switch a light on in the darkI heard the sound of two guitars clash
[Unverified]And ever since I've sought the sheer release I've found
In the explosion of electrifying sound
That hits and lifts me off the ground
The jolt and jangle of live wiresI wanna hear the two guitar clash
[Unverified]Oh, can you hear it, I wanna feel it
I wanna be it 'cause it's realI rushed home at night to listen with school friends
And queued to bump and jump to the sound of real live bands
But now the power's in our own hands
And we will grab it while we canWe're gonna make the two guitars clash
[Unverified]

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/