

Xeper

Vader

A scarab beetle which toils through its phases
From an egg through a larva to the protector of the dawning sun
Out of unmanifest into matrix of manifestation
The word which opens the gates to the worldsKnowledge grants transformative power
There are as many left hand paths as there are us Extension, existence to a further level of being
By powers of the set that releases from thrallI have come into being
I have come into beingMeaning can only come from the individual
In a moments of divine clairvoyance, intensification of being Utterance of the word which ripples through the fabric of the world
Gives insight and strength to those who want to becomeI have come into beingScarab beetle which toils through its phase
From an egg through a larva to the protector of the dawning sun
Out of unmanifest into matrix of manifestation
The word which opens the gates to realitiesI have come into being
