

Razorblades and Cupcakes

Story of the Year

Yeah, yeah Walking example of you
Wait for the silence
Talking backwards to you
It meant nothing to me When the sun goes down
I'll remember this
And every word you said
We've got to find our way back home Perfect timing for you
You'll run 'til your legs break
So here's my reminder of you
It meant nothing to me When the sun goes down
I'll remember this
And every word you said
We've got to find our way back home Yeah wipe you eyes
'Cause it can't rain everyday
It can't rain everyday, go! And I'll drive till there nowhere for me to go
Where no stop signs hold me back
And find what this is worth to you
'Cause I'll be holding on forever, forever! When the sun goes down
I'll remember this
And every word you said
We've got to find our way back home When the rain stops falling, we'll start again
And forget the words you said
'Cause I'll be holding on forever
Yeah forever! Go!
