Kitten Forever

Turn me over
Like a penny in your pocket
Gives you good luck if you want it
If you want itYou got wild eyes, boy wild eyes
And I'm a smokestack honey, ready for a light
We could glow in the dark like a spark in the night
This is a battle baby, are you ready for a fight?So we sing about death
While we're still breathing
About a broken heart while it's still beating
Sing about death
While we're still breathing
About a broken heart while it's still beatingTurn me over
Like a penny in your pocket
Gives you good luck if you want it
If you want itYou got wild eyes, boy wild eyes
And I'm a smokestack honey, ready for a light
We could glow in the dark like a spark in the night
This is a battle baby, are you ready for a fight?So we sing about death
While we're still breathing
About a broken heart while it's still beating
Sing about death
While we're still breathing
About a broken heart while it's still beatingThe spells that you cast in your sleep make me crazy
You're a bad dream baby but you treat me like a lady
And the night time is the right time to get it all wrong
To grab it and runBut the light casts shadows in the sun
And the night time is the right time
To get it all wrong, to grab it and run
But you disfigure like our bodies when the lights turn on,
On, on
