All About Me

Brooke Hogan

If you could've heard my heart, you'd know that it was beating for you
If you could've read my mind, you'd know that I was thinking of you
And if you could've touched my love, then you'll know how I felt for you
But you never had the timeYou didn't have to make me cry, in the middle of my birthday party
And if you never told those lies, there'd be no need for your apology
If you were to touch my soul then you'd still be a part of me
But we can [Incomprehensible]what's on, so now it's just historyAnd it's not about you
(It's not about you)
No, it's not about you
(It's not about you)See I gave you all my love
(It was about you, you had your turn)
(Now, it's all about me)
(Please believe it's all about me)Boy you should've picked me up
Could've caught me when you saw that I was falling
You never should have been so tough, to answer every time I was calling
We couldn't communicate, it was like talking to the walls
And now we can relate, like I don't know you at allIt's like it's not about you
(It's not about you)
No, it's not about you
(It's not about you)You see I gave you all my love
(It was about you, you had your turn)
You had your turn
(Now it's all about me)Everyday it gets more clear, the longer that you're not here
I won't wake up in a different state and it's written all over my face
No obligations I'm responsible for me
[Incomprehensible]
It's only how it's supposed to be, all about meNo, it's not about you
(It's not about you)
I thought your love was true
(It's not about you)You see I gave you all my love
(It was about you, you had your turn)
You had your turn
(Now it's all about me)Please believe it's all about me
(It's not about you)
Please believe it's all about me
(It's not about you)Please believe me, baby, please believe me
(It's was about you)
(Now it's all about me)
