Perfect Life

Red

You pretend what you say you feel
You pretend that you're something special
All the lies that you hide behind
I see right through you, see right through you
Paint it on, cover every inch
Any flaw will expose your weakness
I'm immune to your fantasy
I won't become you, won't become you
You want a perfect, perfect life
Nothing wrong, nothing real inside
All I see is a perfect lie
I don't want your perfect life
So keep your dream with no consequence
You'd damage me just to feed your senses
All you fake for reality
I see right through you, see right through you

Take your pride, take your vanity
Can't you see that your ego's empty
I will turn, I will walk away
I won't become you, won't become you
You want a perfect, perfect life
Nothing wrong, nothing real inside
All I see is a perfect lie
I don't want your perfect life (the perfect life, the perfect life)
I don't want your perfect life (the perfect life, the perfect life)
I don't want your perfect life
My eyes are wide open
I see the enemy, the hypocrisy
Your cover is fading
Secrets are pouring out, castles are falling down
There's nothing to hide behind
I know who I am inside
I'm perfectly broken
