She's

Ryan Cabrera

She looks into my eyes, I'm alive again
And when she says goodbye, I just die again
That's when my restlessness begins
Please don't let it win, I'm so tired again
And underneath the haze, one thing still remains the sameShe's the only love I've known
And now she's gone away
She's the light that brought me to the edge
Will I ever love again?She walked into my life and my world was still
She reached into my soul and all my doubts were killed
That's when my loneliness subsided
She gave me the will, I could fight it
But nothing can erase one thing that remains the sameShe's the only love I've known
Now she's gone away
She's the light that brought me to the edge
Will I ever love again?So just tell me what I should do
I left everything for you
And I can hardly breathe
Because I know I lost you from my world, from myShe's the only love I've known
Now she's gone away
She's the light that brought me to the edge
Will I ever love again?(You're all I knew, my only love)
(And now you're gone away for good)
She's the only love I've known
(All I knew, my only love)
Now she's gone away
(You're all I knew, my only love I know)
She's the light that brought me to the edge
Will I ever love again?
