

My Love Is Chemical

Lou Reed

When I see the way you paint your lips and I smell your perfume when I see the brand new color that you've dyed your hair, too I know, you know, it's more than physical My love, my love, my love, love is chemical Well I know the saying goes that all in love and war is fair but I've never stood a chance against your chemical warfare The polish on your fingernails mascara on your eyes the lotion you rub on at night to make sure your hands ain't dry My love, my love, my love, love is chemical (My, my, my love is chemical)
(my, my, my love is chemical)
I know, I know, it's more than physical, hey baby My love, my love, my love, love is chemical Well I hope that you won't take offense it's not that you're not pretty it's only that I feel like I'm in love with test tube city
I know with you, I'm on the pinnacle I'm on the pinnacle, babe
My love, my love, my love, love is chemical we're not just talking physical desire here (My, my, my love is chemical) (my, my, my love is chemical)
I know with you, it's more than physical much more than just carnal lust
My love, my love, my love, love is chemical My, my love, oh, love is chemical
my, my, my love is chemical It's so much more than physical, honey it's much more than physical My love, my love, my love, love is chemical My, my, my, my love is chemical hey baby, my, my, my, my love is chemical So much more than physical, honey, why don't you come here
my love is chemical I'd like to communicate with you directly my love is chemical So much more than physical
