

Lolita

Robyn Ludwick

She's like stars on the water and she only shines when you turn out the lights Boys ain't that nice
She's as pretty as a picture
Tilted from the first time she was hung on the wall

Lolita are you sad about your old man?
Lolita all those pretty things that you ain't ever had Lolita no, you ain't no one man's baby
"I don't wanna be no poor girl wishin' she was a rich girl's fool"
She's got her hands in your pockets, boys but her eyes ain't set on you
Lolita if you take me for a ride tonight
Lolita I'll be your daddy tonight

She's as bitter as the north wind
Cold as hell should you try and hold her too long Hard times ain't coming down no more Cause the town where Lolita lived done shut all its doors and the church burned down the day she said "I do"
To me, Lolita's goin', "Hey boys find something better now to do"
Lolita if you let me be your man tonight
Lolita if for once you'd let me hold you tight
Lolita I'll be your daddy tonight

Lyrics Submitted by Richard Lee

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>