

Infinite Shapes

Cynic

The indivisible, could sick and irreplaceable, loose neck
It never satisfies, incomplete
The future world enough, nothing to say, don't you worry now Infinite shapes, I cut ten shades of pain Infinite shapes, paper daggers at blame Can't conceive, blades drawn Stuck inside of me, spreading down
With nothing silver eyes, crack the edge
Our eyes turn to gold, don't live like this
I am not worried now
Infinite shapes, I'll forget tiny rays
Infinite shapes, by turn could not shells and gaze Sit down, be on your own, cry to the eternal holes and I have missed the ball
One spark, til you cross the dark
Be craft emeralds, become dust filled with dead
Infinite shapes, I cut ten shades of pain
Infinite shapes, paper daggers at blame
Infinite shapes, I'll forget tiny rays
Infinite shapes, by turn could not shells and gaze The indivisible, could sick and irreplaceable, loose neck
I won't worry now.
