December

Neck Deep

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

Stumbled 'round the block a thousand times
You missed every call that I had tried
So now I'm giving upA heartbreak in mid-December
You don't give a fuck, you never remember me
While you're pulling on his jeans
Getting lost in the big cityI was looking out our window
Watching all the cars go
Wondering if I'll see Chicago
Or a sunset on the West Coast
Or will I die in the cold
Feeling blue and alone?
I wonder if you'll ever hear this song on your stereoI hope you get your ballroom floor
Your perfect house with rose-red doors
I'm the last thing you remember
It's been a long, lonely December
I wish I'd known that less is more
But I was passed out on the floor
That's the last thing I remember
It's been a long, lonely DecemberCast me a sign to show yourself in a better light
I came out breathing, barely breathing
And you came out alright
But I'm sure you'll take his hand
I hope he's better than I ever could've been My mistakes were not intentions
This is a list of my confessions I couldn't sayPain is never permanent but tonight it's killing meI hope you get your ballroom floor
Your perfect house with rose-red doors
I'm the last thing you remember
It's been a long, lonely December
I wish I'd known that less is more
But I was passed out on the floor
That's the last thing I remember

It's been a long, lonely DecemberI miss your face
You're in my head
There's so many things that I should've said
A year of suffering, a lesson learnedI miss your face
You're in my head
There's so many things that I should've said
A year of suffering, a lesson learnedI hope you get your ballroom floor
Your perfect house with rose-red doors
I'm the last thing you remember
It's been a long, lonely December
I wish I'd known that less is more
But I was passed out on the floor
That's the last thing I remember
It's been a long, lonely December
