

I'm Just a Man

Belle Manoir

I'm just a man, my will is so strong
When I've got plans
I close my eyes to the pain
My mother ran, my father left town
But we still have
What's necessary to go on
Flesh and blood, flesh and blood
I'm part of you, you're part of me
There's nothing sad
Yeah, that can not be undone
My brother's sane, his heart is so strong
He's killed some pain
And to himself, nearly did the same
It washed away, into the cruel sea
Like everything
That's built upon the sand
Flesh and blood, flesh and blood
Sweet sister T, she loved so long and hard
Kept to herself
Until that right man came along
Some men, they lie, some men, they cheat
But now she's found
Yeah, someone to be as strong
I'm just a man, my will is so strong
When I've got plans
I close my eyes to the pain
My mother ran, my father left town
But we still have
What's necessary to go on
I'm part of you, you're part of me
