Courage to Care

In My Eyes

Growing up not slowing down
Time got your best just look around
But I've found something that keeps me aware
A whole scene of people with the couruge to care
Your youth is behind you
As if you were dead
Those times were good man
My best lies ahead
When I deal with you now
All I get is upset
You keep pushing me away
Something you'll regret
I know only a few have the will to stay sincere
Seeing different faces every fucking year!
