Patience's Ring

Enid

When all time ends
Your soul I send
Beginnings end
On deathbed's handsWhen ends begin
When your heart weeps
And hide the truths
Its golden budWhat lie herein
Mine patience keeps
Mine ancient will
Mine shining smoothes
Through years of bloodSince any times
While farewells winThine surge of rage
A golden chest
Which's kept in gold
To charming rhymes
For ever inThe weight of age
Will lie the restWeighs nothing more
In my vein's shrine
Will curse your thrill
Than insight's might
Smooth shape of goldInside my core
The cast of mineWhen furies fight
Veils in heat's holdAlong my bends
The earthheart's castThe fight would last
Till all time ends
