

The Things We Do

Yolanda Adams

Every day that goes by, every moment you'll find
There's a broken heart, a tear is cried, a wish is made
That never comes true
And somewhere someone needs to be found Oh, the things we do, the things we say
Are gentle rays of hope that touch us all each day
Oh, each day The things we do, the things we say
These are the greatest gifts we'll ever give away
The things we do Every day in this life, every moment you'll find
A heart is healed, a dream is found, a tear is dried
And laughter is heard
And somewhere someone's life will be changed Oh, the things we do, the things we say
Are gentle rays of hope that touch us all each day The things we do, the things we say
These are the greatest gifts we'll ever give away
The things we do Oh, every hand that has been held
Has reached out for somebody else
In every move we make, every day
We pass love on this way Oh, the things we do, the things we say
Are gentle rays of hope that touch us all each day Oh, the things we do, the things we say
These are the greatest gifts we'll ever give, give away
The things we do, oh yeah, yeah, yeah So when you wake up in the morning
And you find someone who is lost and lonely
Just take them by the hand and help them find their way When you're walking down the street and you
See a man who has no food to eat
Just reach into your pocket and help make a change I have a dream, I have a dream
With this day I wanna make somebody smile
Make somebody smile I wanna make a difference with my life, with this day
I will change the world, you can change the world
We can change the world by the things we do, yeah By the things we do
