

Someday

Brown Floyd

Yeah did you ever have one of those days like you know like when everything you did just seemed to go to pot nothing went right you know and your looking out at your window at your neighbors house and thinkin how does he get it all so good for himself you know and then you start the car and and the muffler falls off and the engine ain't running that day and you got a flat tire and a bird comes along and dumps on the windshield and you start the engine and it don't even start well you know I used to have them days just about all the time Well I'll fly away into the blue suburban skies Yeah I'll get away and I'll leave the world behind Yeah I'll fly away Someday I'll get away Someday (girl) Yeah
You know and like last summer we were at the beach sitting around It was a beautiful day no clouds in the sky and there were seagulls there and we were talkin about this and that and you and her and some other guy doing you wrong and the other thing you know and I was sucking a few beers down and I know it's not a good idea to do before noon but hey that's just the way I am sometimes and I just kept thinkin and thinkin all day long why not just jump on the Harley and go for a ride and make it all go away Well I'll fly away into them blue suburban skies Yeah I'll get away and I'll leave the world behind Well I'll fly away someday yeah I'll get away someday But if you ask my friends about me well this is what they'll say Well he flew away just like a bird up in the sky right through the clouds there he went just like that darlin yeah just like a superman darlin yeah you know he got up and he got away and off he was gone into that great blue sky well he flew away into them blue suburban skies yeah he got away and he left the world behind (and though he could not begin to express his emotions he could not begin to explain how he flet) Well he flew away someday yeah he got away Someday (girl)

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>