Who You Are

Hilary Weeks

I know you wonder
If youll ever have a day
Where the kids stay calm, the laundrys done
And the dishes are put away
And sometimes you feel like
Your days are spent and gone
And the question running through your mind
Is what have I gotten done
And when you finally have a moment to slow down
At the end of your day I know Father would say
Believe in what youre doing
Believe in who you are
And hold tight to the truth that youre a daughter of God
Believe in who youre becoming, believe in who you are
Now it might seem simple
All the little things you do
But the lives you touch matter so much
And theres no one else like you
And Father needs you to stand tall and faithful
To be all you can be
Oh, if you could see what he sees
Youd believe in what youre doing
Youd believe in who you are
So hold tight to the truth that youre a daughter of God
Believe in who youre becoming, believe in who you are
And when its hard to believe in yourself
And you feel like youre beginning to doubt
Remember
That he believes in what youre doing
He believes in who you are
So dont lose sight of the truth that youre a daughter of God
That he believes in who youre becoming, He believes in who you are
