Population 81

Trent Willmon

There used to be a sign Saying, "Welcome to Population 82" Just a little town with no line streets Where I loved you and you loved meBut there ain't been a day of sun Since this town has become Population 81We used to lay beside the lake Talk about the plans we'd make We'd build a house by that old oak tree Make it Population 83Now those dreams have turned to dust Since this town has become Population 81I threw a penny in the wishing well And I made a wish that wished you well And I watched it sink away from me, away from meNow when I go down to the corner store Where the old men sit out on the porch I hear what they don't say to me But they'll talk about it when I leave'Cause they know what's done is done And that this town has become Population 81I took a walk out on the bridge And I dropped that diamond off the edge And I watched it sink away from me Away from me, away from meThere used to be a sign Saying, "Welcome to Population 82" Just a little town with no line streets Where I loved you and you loved me Oh, you loved meYou loved me Oh, I watched you slip away from me
