Open Your Life

Helloween

Do you know what there is
Just behind your wall
Do you hate what you can't see
On the spinning ballIgnorant and wasted that's what you are
But you could be so much more
Listen to your TV, believe the words
And you're dumber than beforeTry to see the real picture
Train your mind to read between the lines
Take your level higher that is your way
Just get up, start out todayTime seems an endless road
When we are young
It don't need a genius
To know that it's wrongHey now, hey now, open your eyes
Hey now, hey now, open your life
Rise now, rise now, feel the new drive
Hey now, hey now, open your lifeFull synthetic anger, that's what you breathe
It's a strategy for all
Telling people stories and bed time tales
But the real important falseSo you grow the wrong seed inside your head
To the will of the modern priest
Supervised aggression instructed to sleep
That's the Devil let you breedAll that we learn
Is just one point of view
Out there in the world
It may not become trueHey now, hey now, open your eyes
Hey now, hey now, open your life
Rise now, rise now, feel the new drive
Hey now, hey now, open your lifeTime seems an endless road
When we are young
It don't need a genius
To know that it's wrongHey now, hey now, open your eyes
Hey now, hey now, open your life
Rise now, rise now, feel the new drive
Hey now, hey now, open your lifeHey now, hey now, open your life
Hey now, hey now, open your life
Rise now, rise now, feel the new drive
Hey now, hey now, open your lifeHey now, hey now, open your life
Hey now, hey now, open your life
