

I Feel Love (Every Million Miles)

The Dead Weather

Nothingâ€™s in color, I cross the desert, nothingâ€™s alive
What does the blacktop know that I have not cracked with my mind
Nothingâ€™s in color, grey has appeal, nobody cry
Why do the street lamps shine out still, nothingâ€™s black

I feel love every million miles
I feel love every once in a while
I feel love every million miles
I feel love every once in a while

Nothingâ€™s in color, I cross the desert, nothingâ€™s alive
What does the blacktop know that I have not cracked with my mind
Nothingâ€™s in color, grey has appeal, deep in the eyes
Why do the street lamps shine out still when nothingâ€™s alive

I feel love every million miles
I feel love every once in a while
I feel love every million miles
I feel love every once in a while

Why does my heartbeat feel like a speaker, feeding back [?]
Why does my heartbeat feel like a speaker, feeding back [?]
Why does my heartbeat feel like a speaker, feeding back [?]
Why does my heartbeat feel like a speaker, feeding back

I feel love every million miles
I feel love every once in a while
I feel love every million miles
I feel love every once in a while
