Took It All

Sarah Harmer

You said, I could have it all
You said it to me
With your eyes so wide, excited
I stop to see what you meanIn the drone of afternoon traffic
On a slope that's slippery
In the relative fear, invited
That keeps us companyWe took it all, without taking it away
We shook it, it didn't blow up in our face
This life's abundancy came clear to meThese hands are holding a kite of worry
That floats high and circles a pivot of fear
In the wind are the words that say, there's no time hurry
So we grab what we can we think the end is nearWe took it all, without taking it away
We shook it, it didn't blow up in our face
This life's abundancy came clearWe can get back up, we can move from this ground
To where there is enough of everything
What has opened up this crevice at our feet
Has created a new sense of urgencyWithout taking it away, we shook it
It didn't blow up in our face
This life's abundancy came clear
