Thank You for Being There

Nicotine

Everytime when I meet you
You were in that fancy dress
Already had a square meal
I was just disappointed in my first love affair
I wanna say thank you for being thereSometimes I took some pills to divert my mind
But nothing never ever changed
Other times I went to my shrink to regain my guts
It's a waste of time and meaninglessLast time when I talked to (you) over the telephone
You said something very strange
You were just trying to control your complicated mind
Then I could say nothing for your requestWhenever you are at a loss, I wanna back you up
But sometimes I can't do so well
Even though my words are not so useful
Call me and talk to me on the phone again
