Deep Sea Giraffe

Gravity Feed

Far beyond all those records sailed
Miles east from the Kenyan shore
There lives a ruminating creature of tale
A giraffe residing on the ocean floor

Higher mammals with roads through the savannah
Sick of them he swam on down below (he packed up all his turtlenecks) â€œReverse beachfront propertyâ€• says Giraffe from his cabana, â€œNever ebbing, weâ€™re just going with the flowâ€•

Did you really really think?
If you left it all behind
And moved down in the drink
No more problems would you find

Life is full of tribulations
Whoa-oh-oh, even if youâ€™re living free
Oh Giraffe you canâ€™t escape them
Whoa-oh-oh, at the bottom of the sea

One of these bright aquatic days
Runninâ€™ seabras near the continental shelf
But now complacent in his hydroponic ways
Never heard the school of tiger sharks in stealth - Ohhh

At once they sprang from behind the greenery
Terrifying memories rushing back to him
Giraffe thought maybe lifeâ€™s no different, land or in the sea
Aqua-cats are chasing, spin your tail, and SWIM!

Looking grim with fishy felines bearing down
Guard Elephant swooped in to save the day
Stomped the hungry predators six feet into the ground
Glad to see Giraffe again, he turned to him to say

Searching for your everywhere, up and down this coast
Got here right before you tore half
Where you live is just a place, its friends who matter most Wonâ€™t you come back up above, come back and make us laugh
