

You Have What I Need

Hawk Nelson

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

I've tried my best to hear out the masses
I've heard it all, from A to Z
I've read it all, been to all of the classes
And still I'm tryin' but I just can't see through the smoke And I don't want it, this confusion
I don't want a false solution
Give me something to hold on to
I want what you have 'cause you have what I need
You have what I need I know it's hard to be yourself when You're not sure just who that is
All I wanted was satisfaction
But all I got was empty fists, can you hear me? I don't want it, this confusion
I don't want a false solution
Give me something to hold on to
I want what you have 'cause you have what I need
You have what I need All I wanted was honesty
And that was something only you give
It took forever just to realize
That I had to give myself away So I could see your face and learn how to live
I can't erase your mark
You may take every thing else away I don't want it, this confusion
I don't want a false solution
Give me something to hold on to
I want what you have 'cause you have what I need I don't want it, this confusion
I don't want a false solution
Give me something to hold on to
I want what you have 'cause you have what I need
I want what you have 'cause you have what I need
