A Better Man

Thunder

Once in a while I drift in time
To a place in my memory that it still hurts to find
I was taking on the world with a see through smile
But dying on the inside all the while
I was dying on the inside all the whileLike a martyr that don't want sympathy
I locked away my feelings and threw away the key
It was gonna take a miracle to pierce my pride
And you were the tower of strength that tried
When your loving washed right over me like the tideAnd now I believe in love, I believe in love
You're the reason why I can
'Cos when I look at myself in the mirror
I see a better man, a better manYes, it's hard finding words that can say how I feel about you
I don't care if it sounds like an old clich
But I can't stand the thought of living my life without you
For even a day
