Innsaei: The Sea Within

HÃ¶gni Egilsson

A wonder has come to life
Soft yet so divine
I live in the dream that speaks of supreme certainty
Will you stay the night?
I think it's alright
A possible pair of socks
At least no broken heart
I look at my life that day
The sunlight warmed my face
Then I'll quietly end the date
What time has drained away
You pass & smile at me
But the waves break into memory
Remember the sea within
It was lost; now it's found again
I'll gaze & I'll gaze for a while
At the sum of what all you are.
