Love Is A Beautiful Thing

Phil Vassar

Looks like everybody's here
Had to put some foldin' chairs in the vestibule
Yeah, it's gettin' fullEven old Aunt Ruby came
Her first time on an airplane

It's hor sister's girl

It's her sister's girl

She wouldn't miss it for the worldAnd all them kids jumpin' in the pews And Mr. Charlie in his lime-green suit

"Is a handsome man"

Remarks Widow CallahanUncle Joe and Uncle Jake

Haven't spoken since '98

Just said hello

It's a good day to let it goSo let the angels gather, let the music play

Let the preacher get to preachin' all the "do you take's"

Love is a beautiful thingThrow the rice in the air, let the church bells ring

Tie the cans to the back of that limousine

Love is a beautiful thingDaddy's waitin' with the bride

Yeah, she helps him with his tie

She sees a tear

He says, "Man, it's hot in here"He hugs his little girl and asks "How did you grow up so fast?

God, I wish your Momma could be here for this "And everybody stands and smiles

As she comes walkin' down the aisle

In her Momma's gown

And Daddy breaks on downGran and Gramps in the second row Stood right there fifty years ago

And said their vows

Yeah, I guess it's workin' outSo let the angels gather, let the music play Let the preacher get to preachin' all the "do you take's"

Love is a beautiful thingThrow the rice in the air, let the church bells ring

Tie the cans to the back of that limousine

Love is a beautiful thingA little table full of gifts

Catering's covered dish

And the wedding band

Well, that's on her handAnd Tommy's teasin' Lorelei He pushed her down and made her cry

And neither one knows

A day will comeWhen the angels gather and the music plays

And the preacher gets to preachin' all the "do you take's"

Love is a beautiful thingThrow the rice in the air, let the church bells ring

Tie the cans to the back of that limousine Love, two people in love is a beautiful thing
