The dream is over

You came to this world only once
It?s difficult to forget the events, believe me
Even the one you love lies to you
The moments you lived start to hurt you

I?m crossing a bridge
As if I were happy
I left behind a love and city
Is this a dream or reality, I don?t know, believe me
This city draws me in, I can?t handle myself

As if the events weren?t enough there comes a message
"Be happy, take care?
Pointless messages keep coming
I drink some more to be able to forget myself
Then staring like an idiot I burst into sobbing

I?m going away from here, I?m leaving without a stop
The dream is over, wake up now, wake up,
I love without asking, I kiss without force
Endure it, endure, the dream is over

You came to this world only once
It?s difficult to forget the events, believe me
Even the lines you wrote lie to you
The words you said start to hurt you

I?m burning a bridge, as if I were happy
I left behind a love and a city
Right or wrong, I don?t care, believe me,
I can?t handle myself, this city captivates me

You don?t believe but a dream is changing my life
Gives me a chance to forget that message
If this is a dream, I really wanna wake up now
Even happiness hurts
Cuz I know it has an end.
