The Last Time for Goodbye

The Craig Walter Band

The Last Time For Goodbye

Letâ€™s start this conversation with goodbye
But donâ€™t expect me to hang my head and cry
If you donâ€™t say another word I know that you wonâ€™t tell another lie.

There was a time that you swept me off my feet
But now you seem to treat me like a stranger on the street
Youâ€™ve said so long so many times
This time is the last time for goodbye

Every time you wake up youâ€™ll be thinkinâ€™ of me
Every time you turn around Iâ€™ll be just a memory
There used to be some magic but we let it slip away
Now Iâ€™m walking to a brand new day
Iâ€™m walking to a brand new day

I think itâ€™s time this story should end
Itâ€™s become far too easy to pretend
Youâ€™ve said so long so many times
This time is the last time for goodbye

Every time you wake up youâ€™ll be thinkinâ€™ of me
Every time you turn around Iâ€™ll be just a memory
There used to be some magic but we let it slip away
Now Iâ€™m walking to a brand new day
Iâ€™m walking to a brand new day

I think itâ€™s time this story should end
Itâ€™s become far too easy to pretend
Youâ€™ve said so long so many times
This time is the last time for goodbye

Words and Music by Craig Walter Â© Overhead Pipes Music, BMI

Lyrics Submitted by Craig Walter

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/