On Building

The Beautiful Mistake

I never said I'd prove it, I only said I'd show it
I gave you my all, but you wanted more
Lost on the inside, filling up the score.I remember playing that one. It's stuck in my head.
Over and Over. I took and you bled.I never said I'd prove it, I only said I'd show it
I gave you my all, but you wanted more
Lost on the inside, filling up the score.I am impatient. Misunderstood.
What ever it is, I've got what it cured.
To your arms I run. My own life, it crumbles.
No longer am I damned. No longer do I stumble.

Lyrics provided by
https://damnlyrics.com/